A. It's not pen card. Its a PAN CARA(personal account number)

A. PAN (permanent account number) is a unique identity allotted to each taxpayer. PAN is mandatory for financial transactions such as receiving taxable salary or professional fees etc. Now a days most of the organizations asking PAN card as identity proof. I think your employer will need your PAN either for taxation purposes or as identity proof. So don't think that you will get any government job with the PAN card. For government jobs you have to attend competitive exams.
